A SENSATIONAL CRIME.

PARIS, 24th May. Paris has been startled by another sensational Hongkong Rope..... crime, this time committed, in the Hotel des H. & W. Dock ...... Mathurins of de New York, 53, Rue des Mathurins. This is one of the quiet, shady, rather narrowstreets that lie behind the Madeline towards the Boulevard Male sherbes, selected by Gaborian as the scene of one of his most mysterious crimes. The circumstances attending this latest addition to the criminal annals of that quarter are of a very peculiar character. Since the exhibition a commercial traveller named Blevioski, a middle aged man of Polish extraction, who at one time held a commission in the Russian army and whose mother has been lady of honour at the Court of the Czar, has been in the habit of putting up at the Hotel des Mathurins several times a month, A front room on the second floor was usually reserved for him. During each of his stays. Paris Mr. Blevinski used to receive visits from a good looking woman slightly over 30 years of age, who was supposed to be his mistress. It is now known that this visitor was Mme. Jeanne Wolocstay, Mme. Wolocstay lived on the best of terms with her busbaud in comfortable apartments in the Rue B. schant and Mr. Blevinski was a friend of the family. On Thursday afternoon she called on Blevinsk again and the pair shut themselves up together. On Friday Blevinski was met the garcon who wanted to arrange the room, but Blevinski refused to admit him, which aroused the suspicion of the laudlord, who entered the room and found the woman dead with a bullet wound in her breast. Blevinski was arrested shortly after. When conducted to the police station the prisoner coolly begged the commissary to sak a question, as he was wounded. "I assure you," he went on, "that I did not kill Jeanne, She committed suicide because I could not give her the money she required. She shot herself twice with my revolver. I tried to recall her to consciousness, but when I sow that she was dead I wanted to put an end to my own life." and Blevinski showed the commissiony that a part of his ear had been shot away. STANLEY AND HIS CRITICS. the facts.
